

Morning Starters: Summer 2 - Urban Animals

Word Challenge

Write the antonym of each word underlined in the 'Did You Know?' paragraph.

Note: An antonym is a word that has the opposite meaning of another word.

Grammar Challenge

Click text to edit

Rewrite the sentence below, adding a fronted adverbial.

The raccoons began their search for food.

Example: As the lights illuminated the streets, the raccoons began their search for food.

Did You Know?

Increasingly, across North America, raccoons are making their homes in towns and cities due to the abundance of food and shelter. In the wild, raccoons typically live in forests, swamps, and rural areas, where they can find natural food sources and nesting sites. Their adaptability to urban centres has allowed them to thrive amidst the hustle and bustle of city life.

Credit: BBC One - Planet Earth II

Number Challenge

Wally the wild raccoon ate 5% of his body weight in food each day.

If Wally weighs 15 kg, how much food does he eat in a week?

Critical Thinking

List two ways that raccoons living in cities are similar to humans and one way they are different.

Monday

Tuesday

Wednesday

Thursday

Friday